

Discipleship Groups

Week 43

As your people gather, welcome them, and help them to greet one another.

When it's time to begin, welcome them as a group. You are in the best position to judge what follow-up may be appropriate at the beginning of each week's session. You are the one in a position to make sure that there is a personal connection from week to week.

You may include the question that the early Methodists asked one another in their small groups: How is it with your soul? It is a personal sharing question. Assure your members that they are free to answer it in the way that they interpret it individually. The only wrong answer is an untrue one.

Next, we want a weekly opportunity to pray for one another. Use your judgment of where folks are at to ask, as it seems appropriate, "May we pray for you?" If the individual is amenable, you may have the group gather around for a time of concentrated group prayer for that person.

Finally, discuss together your experiences of WWJD? When did we ask the question? When did we know the answer or not? What difficulty, cost, or blessing came from doing what He would do?

After (1) the initial conversations, (2) the "soul question," (3) the prayer time, and (4) the WWJD debriefing, take the opportunity to watch this week's video together. It can be downloaded or played from the website.

Following the video, share with one another about these matters:

- In the video, we were introduced to the distinction between following Jesus together and following Jesus alone. What has been your experience of following Jesus alone?
- To what extent do you (singular) feel that you (plural), as a group, are in fact following Jesus together?
- How might you, as a group, be better at following Jesus together rather than individually?
- In your own life, how have you experienced the difference between following Him alone and following Him with others? What difference has it made to you to follow with others?
- To what extent is following Jesus together a safeguard against sin? Why or why not?

After your time of sharing is complete, close the group in prayer. Then, before everyone is dismissed, remind the members about your next meeting time and place, as well as encouraging them to pray for one another each day.
