

Discipleship Groups

Week 47

As your people gather, welcome them, and help them to greet one another.

When it's time to begin, welcome them as a group. You are in the best position to judge what follow-up may be appropriate at the beginning of each week's session. You are the one in a position to make sure that there is a personal connection from week to week.

You may include the question that the early Methodists asked one another in their small groups: How is it with your soul? It is a personal sharing question. Assure your members that they are free to answer it in the way that they interpret it individually. The only wrong answer is an untrue one.

Next, we want a weekly opportunity to pray for one another. Use your judgment of where folks are at to ask, as it seems appropriate, "May we pray for you?" If the individual is amenable, you may have the group gather around for a time of concentrated group prayer for that person.

Finally, discuss together your experiences of WWJD? When did we ask the question? When did we know the answer or not? What difficulty, cost, or blessing came from doing what He would do?

After (1) the initial conversations, (2) the "soul question," (3) the prayer time, and (4) the WWJD debriefing, take a few moments to reflect together on this past week's exercises. What was your experience of inventorying all the things you do? How difficult and/or helpful was it to categorize those things? What did you discover when asking yourself "why" or "for whom/what" you do what you do? What did you discover when pondering what it would look like to do those things for Jesus?

Next, take the opportunity to watch this week's video together. It can be downloaded or played from the website. And following the video, discuss the following with one another:

- How do you feel about the idea of a slave continuing to "serve" the same earthly master but now doing whatever he does for the Lord, instead?
- What is your response to the idea of "whatever you do, do it for the Lord" being a helpful ethical filter?

Next, watch the "Do Everything" video. Then, share with one another about what especially struck you in the song -- What was meaningful? What spoke to you personally?

After your time of sharing is complete, close the group in prayer. Then, before everyone is dismissed, remind the members about your next meeting time and place, as well as encouraging them to pray for one another each day.
